

n. process that describes the movement of body fluids through the veins and arteries

n. hypersensitivity reaction

n. light-headedness

n. aching in the thorax

n. reddening of the skin

n. process of emitting sperm

n. illness with the following symptoms: shortness of breath, palpitations (skipped beats or a 'flip-flop' feeling in the chest); weakness or dizziness; nausea, sweating

n. citrus X paradisi

n. yellowing of the skin and the whites of the eyes caused by an accumulation of bile pigment (bilirubin) in the blood

n. process of getting better

n. type of blood cancer which is characterized by rapid growth of white blood cells

n. power of movement

v. to observe

n. information on a person's previous illnesses and their present health conditions

v. to continue

n. the branch of medicine concerning conception, pregnancy and childbirth

n. malfunction of the light-sensitive membrane which is part of the eyeball

n. large muscle of the thigh

n. an abnormal production of new tissue that has no purpose

n. inflammation

n. the highest point of the skull; the top of the head

n. cases in which a specific medication should be applied

n. the tissue in plants which transports water and salts

v. to deteriorate

n. a metal showing few properties of the transition metals

n. barm